

Appalachian Trail in Virginia Meets its Mark

The Appalachian Trail Conservancy is on the cusp of having 1,000 license plates on the road. With this milestone, ATC will start receiving its share of the profits from the state, per the legislation. This will catapult ATC into a new era for funding Appalachian Trail programs in Virginia.

By getting your tag today you'll help the Appalachian Trail Conservancy protect and maintain 550-miles of the iconic Trail through Virginia. The fee for having an A.T. specialty plate is $25 in addition to your regular vehicle registration fees.

The ATC will receive $15 annually for each AT plate purchased or renewed.

These funds will help the Appalachian Trail by supporting:

- Trail and facilities maintenance
- Ridgerunners, caretakers, and other public information efforts
- Land conservation
- Involving kids and teachers with the A.T. through A Trail to Every Classroom
- ATC Community Partner program
- Citizen scientist-based environmental monitoring program
